describe your perfect day: ___ Wake up on my moms bed with my body stretched from one end to the other, nose hanging out from under the blanket, go for a stroll, then a run, then a swim, then another run, another swim over and over again until I decide I am good and tired and crawl into my plush doggie bed....until I see mom getting ready for bed, when I make a mad dash under the blanket on her bed and give her "the eyes" to stay there and not to the crate.

when I grow up I want to be (career description) ... : a calm, sleepy old man curled up in my dog bed...wait no that's what my mom wants☺ I want to be an Olympic swimmer like Michael Phelps!!
